

Arizona Statewide Family Engagement Center

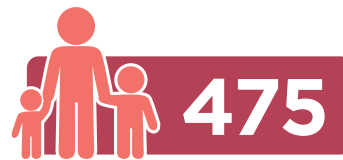

5-year Results | October 2018 - October 2023

Thanks to a five-year grant from the U.S. Department of Education, the National Center for Families Learning (NCFL) established the Arizona Statewide Family Engagement Center (SFEC) to provide an equitable, coordinated continuum of family engagement support designed to build the capacity of families, schools, and communities and improve student and family well-being. As part of its work, the Arizona SFEC instituted:

- School-based family literacy programs in 14 public schools across six districts
- A statewide professional development network to build family engagement capacity for educators
- A Parent Leadership Council to deepen family/school connections and incorporate family voice into education decision-making

Books distributed

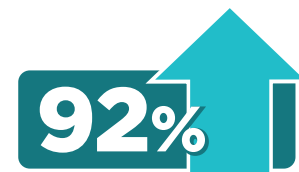

Parenting adults completed family literacy programming

Increased confidence to support their child's education*

Increased confidence in technology skills*

Made progress on important goals like earning a GED and becoming a better teacher of their child

High-impact activities

Hours of family engagement opportunities

*For respondents with greatest demonstrated need in the pre-survey

Program Partners

